IS ARRANGING FOR CONFERENCE

Rev. W. H. Wylie Says Many Homes
Here Are Offered to Entertain
Visiting Ministers.

THIRD WEEK IN SEPTEMBER

Three Sessions of Conference Held in Rushville, First One
Being in 1852.

The eighty-second annual session of the Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will convene in the St. Paul M. E. church here Tuesday evening, September 16. The conference has met in Rushville three times before this.

The Indiana Conference was organized in 1832. Previously it was included in the bounds of the Illinois Conference which consists of Illinois and Indiana.

The Conference is much more than double its size when it met in Rushville last, twenty-one years ago. This has led to the speculation that adequate entertainment could not be provided in Rushville because of its size, but the Rev. W. H. Wylie, pastor of the M. E. church, says that the people of all of the churches have opened their homes with royal hospitality and there is no doubt but that the Conference guests will be cared for in true Rushville style.

Not quite enough homes have been obtained, according to the Rev. Mr. Wylie, and it will be impossible to make a canvass of all who should be seen. The visitors will arrive on Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday evening, September 16 and will remain over Sunday, since the session will not close until some time Monday, September 22.

It is the desire of the Rev. Mr. Wylie that as many homes as possible can be obtained where lodging and all three meals can be furnished. But in case lodging and breakfast can be offered, or lodging without meals, or meals without lodging, it will be very acceptable. All persons who would like to open their homes on this occasion and who have not been seen are requested to communicate with the Rev. Mr. Wylie.

The first session of the Indiana Conference was held in New Albany. Bishop Joshua Soule presided and C. W. Ruter was secretary. The Conference then included all Indiana, a part of Michigan and one charge in Ohio. At that time there were sixty-five preachers and 17,600 members in the Conference. In the next eleven years there was a rapid growth as in 1843 there were 216 preachers, 488 local preachers and 67,219 members.

In 1844 the state was divided and all north of the national road was made the North Indiana Conference. In 1852 there were 159 preachers, 302 local preachers and 39,271 members. This year the Indiana Conference was again divided and the Southeastern Indiana Conference, including the southeastern quarter of the state was organized.

The Southeast Indiana Conference held its first annual session in Rushville in 1852. Bishop O. C. Baker presided and F. C. Holliday was secretary. That session reported 100 ministers, 149 local preachers and 16,868 members.

The Southeast Indiana Conference met again in Rushville in 1873. Bishop E. R. Ames presided and G. L. Curtiss was secretary. The third session was held here in 1892 and at that time Bishop W. X. Nindé presided and L. D. Moore acted as secretary. At that time there were reported 35,565 members and 150 ministers.

After forty-three years of separation, the Southeast and the Indiana Conference united in 1895 under the latter title. The territory includes Indianapolis and the entire southern half of the state. After the union there were 330 ministers, 303 local preachers and a total membership of 84,738.

The growth since then has continued rapidly. The minutes of the 1912 session show that there were 357 ministers and 99,224 members. Bishop W. F. Anderson of Cincinnati will preside at the coming session and H. W. Baldrige of Indianapolis will act as secretary.

CHESTER HALL IS FATALLY INJURED

Young Man Who Formerly Lived
Here, Sustained Broken Back in Railway Accident.

E. R. COOLEY WILL RECOVER

Chester Hall, who formerly lived here with the late Dr. Lot Green and a son of the late Dr. Fred Hall of Arlington, was believed to have been fatally injured last Saturday evening in a railroad accident in the western edge of Ohio. Hall was taken to the Deaconess hospital on Sunday evening and Dr. Frank H. Green received word last night of the accident. Dr. Green went to Indianapolis and states that the young man is suffering from a broken back and can not live. Young Hall was unconscious and the particulars concerning the accident are not known.

Chester Hall is a brother of Harry Hall and Cyrus Hall of Jersey City and is well known here. For the past few years he has been a brakeman on a railway and was injured while at work. Dr. Green stated today that there was no chance for recovery.

In the same ward at the Deaconess hospital Dr. Greensaw Ernest R. Cooley, who sustained an injury to his back in a fall from a hand car near Morristown Sunday. Cooley, according to Dr. Green will recover as his back is not broken as was first thought.

NATIVE OF THIS COUNTY

William Barnes Who Died Following
Operation Was Born Here.

William H. Barnes, 72 years old, a native of Rush county and a well known resident of Shelbyville, died late yesterday afternoon in the St. Vincent hospital, Indianapolis, following an operation for stenosis of the bowels. He was born in this county February 23, 1841, and spent his early days here. Mr. Barnes was a member of Company K., Twenty-third Indian infantry and served through out the Civil war. He had lived in Shelbyville for a number of years. He is survived by his widow and four children, Mrs. Julia Thompson of California, Mrs. Frank Young of Shelby county, Mrs. George Henry of Shelbyville and Charles Barnes of Indianapolis.

MEDAL CONTEST.

Greenfield Reporter: A gold medal contest, conducted under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., was held at Charlottesville Sunday night. Seven contestants competed, all silver medal winners; two were from Charlottesville, two from Knightstown, and three from Greensboro. The contest was won by Miss Mary Baldwin, of Greensboro.

WATSON TO TAKE STAND SATURDAY

On Return From Business Trip to Canada Former Congressman
Will Testify Before Committee.

INVESTIGATING THE LOBBY

Indianapolis Star Claims Credit For Obtaining a Hearing For Rushville Man.

The Indianapolis Star claims the credit for obtaining for Former Congressman James E. Watson of this city the privilege to appear before the Senate lobby investigation committee, which allowed Col. Mulhall to make all sorts of outrageous charges and then denied Watson the right to reply. The Star in a Washington dispatch today says:

Stirred by comments on its course in The Indianapolis Star, the Senate lobby probe committee today decided to give a hearing to James E. Watson of Indiana just as soon as Col. Martin M. Mulhall, the boss lobbyist, shall have completed his testimony.

Senator Reed, the chief inquisitor, interrupted Col. Mulhall's testimony to read an excerpt from the Washington correspondence of The Indianapolis Star in which Mr. Watson was quoted as saying that he was receiving outrageous treatment from the committee which had allowed Col. Mulhall to smear him all over, but was apparently unwilling to permit him to testify in refutation of Mulhall's charges. Senator Reed also called attention to an editorial in The Star which stated that, regardless of whether Mr. Watson was guilty, he was entitled to fair play.

Senator Reed said his idea all along had been that Watson was entitled to be heard, but that the committee should take the witness in proper order and should not hear Watson until Mulhall has concluded. Evidently the committee saw that the only fair course was to hear Watson and that to do otherwise would lay it open to just criticism.

So, after much debate, it was decided that Watson shall have his day in court as soon as Mulhall leaves the stand. Tonight Watson left for New York and Montreal, Canada, on a business mission. He will return Saturday and expects to be heard then or Monday.

Watson has written the following letter to the committee emphasizing his request to be heard:

"I cancelled a large number of chautauqua engagements to be here and this loss, together with the amount of money I am spending for living expenses here will cause me to be out $3,000 this month. It now appears that Mulhall will be on the stand for some time to come and I don't want to miss my chautauqua engagements for August and thus necessitate an additional heavy loss.

"It is not desirable to be out in the far West or Northwest states and be compelled to leave to come to Washington, and I want to personally request you to let me go on the stand at once and give whatever testimony you may seek to elicit, and let me get away.

"I know that you do not desire to cause any one citizen so much loss of both time and money and I think you might grant me the favor without seriously disturbing the order of your testimony.

"Mulhall, I am told, will be through with whatever he has to say about the Indiana situation and about me personally by tomorrow evening and in view of the very heavy loss being entailed upon me. I think it but fair that you should allow me to testify and get away. I can not be excused

CONDUCTOR IS NAMED IN SUIT

George Schrader in Divorce Complaint Says Wife Planned to Leave with Earl Rigsbee.

MAKES SENSATIONAL CHARGES

Refers to Him as "My Intended" and Calls Him "Sweetheart" in Letters.

George Schrader, a well known motorman on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction line, through his attorneys, Sexton and McColgin, filed suit for divorce today from his wife, Mary Schrader. In the complaint serious charges are made against his wife and the case promises to be sensational.

According to the complaint they were married February 14, 1906, and separated February 1, 1913. Mr. Schrader alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. He states that his wife was seldom at home when he would return from his work and that she neglected and failed to have his meals ready for him. He alleges in the complaint that she would stay out late at night and would give him no excuse for her conduct.

Mr. Schrader names Earl Rigsbee as the correspondent. The complaint states that on frequent occasions and without the knowledge of the plaintiff, she would meet Earl Rigsbee, a conductor on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction line, and that Rigsbee at that time was a married man. The plaintiff alleges that Mrs. Schrader became enamored with Rigsbee and wrote him letters in which she referred to him as "my intended," "dear," "dearie," "sweet-

IVY COMPANY MAY TRAVEL IN AUTOS

Plans Afoot For Local Uniform Rank

Members to go to Joint Encampment at Danville, Ill.

MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Members of Ivy company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, will meet at the K. of P. building tomorrow night at eight o'clock to arrange for the Indiana-Illinois joint encampment which will be held at Danville, Ill., August 18 to 22. Samuel L. Trabue of this city, adjutant general on the staff of Maj. Gen. Arthur J. Stobart, commanding the Uniform Rank companies of the United States, will have headquarters in the pavilion where the two brigade headquarters are located, according to a letters he has received from W. B. Gray, commanding the Indiana brigade.

Four automobiles have been promised to haul members of Ivy company to the encampment and indications are that everyone from here will go in an automobile. The machines will leave here Sunday, August 16. Refreshments will be served tomorrow night when the meeting is held to make arrangements.

Every regiment except one will have a band. The Third Indiana regiment of which the Rushville company is a member and which is commanded by Col. Phelps of Newcastle, will give a dress parade Monday evening of the encampment. Supreme Chancellor Thomas J. Carling of Macon, Ga., will attend the gathering.

heart" and other endearing terms.

It is also alleged that Mrs. Schrader wrote Rigsbee and suggested that they leave Rushville together and that pursuant to the suggestion she left and was followed a day later by Rigsbee. It is stated that his departure was delayed one day. The complaint states that Mrs. Schrader and Rigsbee were together in the city of Warsaw in the month of August, 1912.

They have no children. Both parties in the divorce proceedings are well known. The case will probably come up for trial at the September term of the circuit court. The Schrader divorce is the fifth to be filed since Saturday of last week.

PLAYGROUND IDEA TO BE DISCUSSED

Effort to Crystalize Sentiment For Establishing One at City Park
Will be Made.

AT LAWN PARTY WEDNESDAY

At the lawn party which will be held at the city park tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Civic Improvement and Social Service Association of Rushville a movement will be sprung looking toward the establishment of a public playground for children in the city park. An effort will be made to crystalize the sentiment for this improvement. That there is much sentiment for a playground has already been discovered by the officials of the association. Every mother interested in the playground is urged to attend.

The officials have investigated and know just what it will cost to establish a playground. Enough people have promised so that there would be supervisors of the play the year around. The services of the supervisors will be donated.

There will be no grass to cut. All that east of the creek has been cut and there is no necessity for cutting that on the west. No mower can be procured at this time to make the first cutting.

Supper will be served about six o'clock. The association will furnish sugar, cream and coffee and free of charge and people attending are requested to bring only sandwiches and pie or cake.

TO ADVERTISE CHAUTAUQUA

"Flying Squadron" to Visit Several Towns This Evening.

The "flying squadron" advertising the Rush county chautauqua will leave Wolcott's drug store this evening at six-thirty o'clock. The motorists were to make the trip last evening but threatening clouds kept them at home. The towns of Glenwood, Falmouth, Fairview, Raleigh, and Mays will be visited. Programs will be distributed and short talks will be made to tell something of the talent which should attract many people here. The "flying squadron" in past years has been a very popular method of advertising the chautauqua.

A NATIONAL AIR.

Muncie Press: Colonel Roosevelt is said to have suggested the adoption of "Dixie" as the national hymn which ought to help some in the South, but if it's that kind of a tune that is wanted, why not adopt, "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," which passed current as the national anthem for a time in the Philippines?

—James Laughlin has returned from a visit in Indianapolis.

ALL TICKETS TO SELL FOR $1.50

Chautauqua Directors Decide Today to Sell Remainder at Guarantors'
Price Till Saturday Night.

DUE TO MISUNDERSTANDING

Rule Will be Enforced Strictly After
This Year—Never Had to be Applied Before.

Because of a misunderstanding by many people of the conditions surrounding the sale of chautauqua season tickets and because the board of directors did not wish to arouse any ill feeling even though the board was not at fault, it was decided at a board meeting this morning that season tickets would be sold for a dollar and a half until next Saturday night.

The tickets will be on sale at Hargrove & Mullin's drug store and will go for a dollar and a half as long as they last. No tickets will be sold for less than two dollars after Saturday night. When the supply is exhausted there will be no more season tickets sold.

A little less than a thousand tickets were printed this year. That is the usual number. Eight hundred tickets were placed in the hands of the guarantors, which is about one hundred less than the number sold to guarantors last year. The guarantors have all sold out and people are clamoring for tickets at the dollar-and-a-half rate. There will be a little less than two hundred to be sold at that price between this time and Saturday night so that people are urged to purchase their tickets at once and not be disappointed.

Under the heading, "Rates of Admission," in the program, it is stated very plainly that non-transferable adult season tickets is two dollars, unless purchased of a guarantor prior to August 1, when they are a dollar and a half. That statement Continued on Page 4.

Who Gives You the Poorest Service?

Is it the merchant who has the brightest store, the most attractive things to sell you, a polite and intelligent sales force to serve you and an all 'round genial, home-like, welcome atmosphere awaiting you in his shop—and then tells you about it in his advertising?

Is it from that kind of merchant that you receive poor service? It is not probable.

The chances are ten to one that the poorest service and the least satisfaction come from the shops where business is done under antiquated conditions; where the merchandise is badly chosen and badly displayed; where salespeople are not well-informed and courteous and obliging; and where the merchant either has nothing much of interest to advertise or else "doesn't believe in advertising."

There MAY be exceptions but, if so, they indicate the rule. The best service comes from the business that has so much confidence in its methods and its merchandise that it is a part of its splendid service to tell you about it.

Faithful ad-readers seldom go to the wrong store.

PAY FINES AS RESULT OF FIGHT

Elmer and Sidney Sorrell of Dunreith
Plead Guilty to Assault and Battery Charge.

A FIGHT ON AN INTERURBAN

As the result of a free-for-all fight on the interurban car that left Newcastle Saturday night at 11:20 for Dunreith, Elmer and Sidney Sorrell of Dunreith Monday paid fines of $2 and costs each in Squire Koons' court on assault and battery charges, says the Newcastle Courier.

Stories of the fight conflict, but from the version of the Sorrell brothers, Grant Thayer, a wellknown horseman of Knightstown, was on the car and attempted to take a seat from the two brothers. They quarreled and Thayer was struck a hard blow on the head with a hammer by one of the two brothers. Thayer is said to have hit one of the brothers with a beer bottle.

The fight started between Spiceland and Dunreith and continued until the car reached Dunreith. The men were drunk, it is said, but no charges of intoxication were filed.

A charge of assault and battery against Thayer was filed this morning and he will appear before Squire Koons Tuesday morning.

CAUGHT WIFE IN HIS THIEF TRAP

Woman Did Not Know of the Contrivance.

THOUGHT TO GUARD HEN COOP

During His Wife's Absence South Bend Man Rigged Up a Sawed-Off Shotgun Aimed at Door of Hennerly, Seeking to Catch Marauders—The Thing Worked All Right, but Victim Was Not the One Inventor Expected.

South Bend, Ind., July 29.—For days Anthony Wishin, a west side resident, has been suffering losses through chicken thieves. Wishin finally arranged a trap, whereby the thief when he entered the coop, would be shot in the hand. The first time the trap was sprung it worked splendidly, but Anthony's wife was the visitor at the coop. The woman received a heavy load of shot in the right hand. It is feared the hand will have to be amputated. Mrs. Wishin had been away on a vacation, and knew nothing of the precautions which had been taken by the husband during her absence. Wishin cut the barrel off an old shotgun and placed the remainder of the gun at the rear of the coop. He had fastened it against a post and by a system of wires it was arranged so that the opening of the door by one who did not understand the trap, would discharge the load of shot in the visitor's hand.

AWAITED DEATH'S APPROACH

Two Suicides at Logansport Similar in Method.

Logansport, Ind., July 29.—Standing in the path of a Wabash passenger train last evening, a man identified as Thomas Pierce, aged fifty, of Delphi, smiled at the shrieking whistle of warning and was struck by the engine and instantly killed. The suicide occurred about a mile east of this city. The engineer declared he saw the man walking up the track, that he held down the whistle, but as the engine rushed near he observed the man was facing the engine and smiling.

A few hours previously, at the same spot where a short time ago he apprehended his wife, who was fleeing with a lover, Geremio Cocuzzi threw himself upon the track in front of an interurban car and was ground to pieces. The tragedy occurred at a little waiting station on the interurban line a few miles east of this city. A few months ago Cocuzzi's wife fled from his home in this city with an intimate friend of his.

The couple went to the little way station to wait for a car, but the husband was hot on the trail and, finding the couple, attacked his wife with a knife.

A few hours before throwing himself in front of the car, Cocuzzi informed a friend, Dominic Moro, that he was going to die at the same spot "where I died before."

The Fool Who Rocks the Boat.

Hammond, Ind., July 29.—Five young Indiana Harbor men went rowing on Lake Michigan. When a hundred yards from shore one of them rocked the boat. It filled with water and all were thrown into the lake. Two, Godel Brame, aged seventeen, and Alex Katrieki, aged eighteen, were drowned. The other three swam ashore.

He Wouldn't Be Good.

South Bend, Ind., July 29.—William Harris, paroled Jeffersonville reformatory convict, has been returned to the institution from this city charged with breaking up a home. The day Harris started back to the reformatory W. C. Finley filed suit for divorce from his wife. The husband declares his wife wishes to marry Harris.

Killed by Fall on Street.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 29.—When his legs, which had been affected by a recent attack of paralysis, gave way beneath him, George Kelly, aged thirty-five, a bartender, plunged from the street curb, his head striking on an iron sewer grating. His skull was fractured and death ensued two hours later.

Body Found Along the Tracks.

Mishawaka, Ind., July 29.—Mystery surrounds the death of William Morgan, fifty-five years old. His body was found along the tracks of the railroad. There was a deep gash on his forehead. His watch and money was missing.

Stepbrother Contests Will.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 29.—Alexander McGregor, stepbrother of James McGregor, who left more than $400,000 to education and other institutions, will contest the will on the ground that the testator was of unsound mind.

Invitation For Mulhall.

Evansville, Ind., July 29.—Local labor leaders have extended an invitation to M. M. Mulhall to make the Labor day address in this city.

Nat Goodwin is finishing up the 500,000-word story of his life, including the story of his marriages and divorces.

AUTO RUNS INTO TELEPHONE POLE

Decatur County People Are Thrown
Out in Accident Between Spiceland and Dunreith.

POLE SNAPPED OFF SQUARELY

Motor Car Hits Boulder When Driver Attempts to Dodge Load of Gravel.

Rumors were rife here Sunday and Monday that some Rushville people had been injured in an auto accident which occurred between Dunreith and Spiceland last Saturday evening, but nothing definite concerning the accident could be learned except that it did occur. The telephone service all over northern Rush county was badly crippled by the storm of Sunday afternoon.

It developed that the people in the accident live in Decatur county and that they were not seriously hurt, but that they could be taken to their home. The Greensburg News says of the accident:

Hurled from an automobile when it struck a telephone pole and was swung completely around by the force of the collision, and scattered along the roadside for some distance, Burney people who were passengers in the Will Smiley car, which was partially wrecked Saturday near Dunreith, are all suffering from severe bruises, but are thankful they escaped with their lives from what apparently in most circumstances would have been a death dealing accident.

Mr. Smiley, John Gartin, Frank Alexander and Donald Webb and wife, were en route in the new car of Mr. Smiley to Muncie, and from there intended going to Farmville. Near Dunreith they struck a stretch of road on which gravel had been dumped. Believing that he could drive the machine against a boulder and it would be less damaging than to steer into a load of gravel, Mr. Smiley pulled the car for the rock.

The obstruction was sufficient, however, to hurl the car to the side of the road and into a telephone pole with such violence as to snap the pole completely off. All the occupants of the machine, excepting Mr. Smiley, were thrown out and the car swung completely around. Investigation showed none of the occupants were seriously bruised, though all suffered many severe bruises, and for a while Mr. Alexander spit blood.

The wrecked car was removed to a garage in Knightstown where it was sufficiently repaired so that Mr. Smiley could drive it home Saturday night. Mr. Gartin continued on to Muncie and the other members of the party came home Saturday afternoon. Monday E. E. Arbuckle and Mr. Smiley drove the machine to Indianapolis for complete repairs.

NOT FIT FOR OCCUPANCY

This Is a New York Judge's Opinion of Sing Sing.

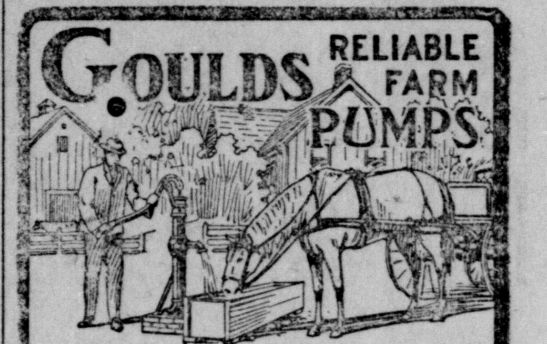

New York, July 29.—Judge Dike in Part 2 of Kings county court sentenced a convict to Sing Sing prison, but declined to order his commitment until conditions in the prison are better. Judge Dike delivered a caustic criticism of the prison administration, saying that the state of New York, on account of its indifference to the welfare of convicts, has become contemptible in the eyes of the country.

Rev. H. D. Sterrett preached a very practical sermon Sunday morning. He said many things which seemed to be principles fundamental of a new creed but in fact were a living active principle of the old time religion of our fathers possessed in the beginning. Our fathers went about doing good. Religion does not consist in attending church services alone; but in exemplifying the life within by doing good and spreading cheer and good will in short assisting our neighbors to a better and higher life, instead of discouraging, scolding and drawing them down. Bro. Sterrett's sermon was along these lines. His address was decidedly more practical than any he has delivered very lately. You who remain at home and growl about the weather being hot miss something you cannot regain. So come and leave your coat at home if you think you will feel more comfortable without it. ### DALLAS EXCITED BY CRIME

Murder of Young Woman Stenographer Caused a Sensation.

Dallas, Tex., July 29.—The brutal murder of Miss Florence Brown, a stenographer, twenty-seven years old, in the offices of a real estate firm in this city has caused a tremendous sensation, but so far there is little for the police to work on and the solution of the mystery is not in sight.

The young woman was found with her throat cut, in a pool of blood in the washroom of the office building. There was evidence of a struggle, but the weapon with which her throat had been cut was not found. A rigorous police investigation is being conducted.

BIG BANKERS IN A "CONSPIRACY"

At Least, That Is What Secretary McAdoo Says.

TO DEFEAT CURRENCY BILL

Secretary of the Treasury Issues Statement in Which He Charges That Influential New York City Banks Are Fostering a Plot to Block the Wilson Administration's Carefully Prepared Currency Reform Program.

Washington, July 29.—W. G. McAdoo, secretary of treasury, charges that influential New York city banks are in a conspiracy to defeat the administration currency bill. He contends that the depreciation of the 2 per cent United States bonds below par is a result of concerted effort on the part of these banks and is intended to help them in their campaign against the currency measure.

The secretary in a formal statement charged further that the intention of these big New York financial interests is to incite the country banks, which hold about two-thirds of the 2 per cents, into opposing the administration bill on the ground that it will injure the bonds and so cause large losses to the banks.

The issuance of McAdoo's blast against the New York banks caused a stir in official circles here. There was a tendency to regard the McAdoo statement as having been issued very much in the same spirit as was President Wilson's statement on the lobby which resulted in the investigation by a committee of the senate and many disclosures, and it is believed Mr. McAdoo's statement will lead to a congressional inquiry into the alleged conspiracy.

The president and his advisers are confident that the administration bill will be enacted at this session without the alteration of any important provision. It is said that the president will insist upon every essential feature of the measure.

A FINAL REVIEW OF MULHALL'S LETTERS

Lobby Quizzers Nearing End of Big Task.

Washington, July 29.—The senate investigators drew a sigh of relief when the last Mulhall letter of the batch produced yesterday began with the following sentence:

"My Dear Mr. Bird: You will please find enclosed a copy of my resignation which I have mailed to Mr. Kirby this p. m."

This was letter No. 4310. The commission has reviewed in the fortnight and more that Mulhall has been a witness practically all of the correspondence. The letters and documents that have been skipped are of small public interest. They are being skimmed through at today's session.

The committee was somewhat refreshed by the appearance before it of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who called long enough to tell the commission that all that Mulhall had said of holding an interview or conference with him was entirely false.

The relations between Mulhall and Representative McDermott of Illinois had a further airing when the numerous "expense accounts" of Mulhall, filed to show how money had been paid by Mulhall to the Illinois congressman and later accounted for or repaid to him by the N. A. M., were reviewed. Mulhall said:

"One time, just to illustrate, gentlemen, how this man McDermott worked, I was standing at Fritz Reuter's bar and I took my bank roll out of my pocket. This fellow grabbed it. I thought he was just cutting up, but he kept it." Mulhall added: "And there was $36 in the roll."

Mulhall also testified to giving Isaac McMichael, chief page of the house, $100, of which McDermott got $50, according to the tale McMichael related to Mulhall.

A Flareback.

Latest developments in the Senate lobby investigation indicates one of two things; a flareback for the Democrats who apparently instituted the lobby hunt for political purposes, or a complete failure of Mulhall's charges to hold water.

In his testimony yesterday, substantiated by letters HE had written, the self-styled lobbyist used the same reckless disregard in referring to national legislation, the action of national legislators and the influence that he held over them. The letters introduced yesterday were of great import since they covered a period when Mulhall, according to his own assertions, had to prepare to confer with Democrats, since it was apparent they would be in control in the House and possibly in the Senate.

The correspondence brought him in to the year 1911 when the House became Democratic. In many of his letters that year he spoke of interviews with Majority Leader Underwood, William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor in President Wilson's Cabinet, then Chairman of the House Labor Committee; James Lloyd, of the First Missouri District, Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, and other prominent men.

He wrote in the strain he used all through his letter to J. P. Bird, the general manager of the association, and other officials, of having men appointed to committees, of preventing legislation and of generally having to do with the operations of the Washington.

Mentioned in several letters with assurance that he expected to have even greater success with the Democratic House than he had boasted he had in the days of Republican rule, but questioned by the committee, and had been too optimistic in his prophecy.

Mulhall took up his relations with Representative J. T. McDermott, of Illinois, and L. H. McMichael, one time chief page of the House and confidential secretary to the Representative.

He identified and swore to what was receipt for $100 given him by McMichael for service in September and October, 1911, and reiterated that McDermott borrowed money from him which he never paid back. Senator Reed became deeply interested in talk about a "secret room" which Mulhall said McDermott secured for his use on the lower floor of the west front of the Capitol on the House side.

He described that as quite a mysterious place, and the committee will inspect it later. Mulhall went to the length of making arrangements to hire a stenographer, who he intended to place in this room. He wrote to Bird about the room and the stenographer.

"The employment of a stenographer and locating her in that room," said Bird in reply, "would place me in a doubtful position and one that I can not accept, feeling that the association cannot afford to lay itself liable to the slightest suspicion."

Mulhall said he, McDermott and McMichael used the room and that he frequently made long-distance telephone calls from the room and called up Senators and members of the House there.

All through today's letters Mulhall appeared in opposition to legislation favoring labor. He swore that there was a labor lobby in Washington then, in which Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison and other officials of the American Federation of Labor were conspicuous figures.

Questioned by Senator Nelson, he said that the labor people were trying to do about what the manufacturers were trying to do, only working in the opposite direction.

RISK FINED.

Frank Risk, who was arrested yesterday after he had started a rough house at his home in North Sexton street while intoxicated was fined one dollar and costs this morning by Mayor Black. Risk was charged with public intoxication. His fine was stayed.

ALL TICKETS TO SELL FOR $1.50

is very plain and it seems could not be misunderstood. Below the rates of admission is a statement that these guarantors' season tickets may be purchased while they last.

This has always been the rule, but a condition similar to the present one has never arisen before. There was never such a demand for season tickets and the number of guarantors' tickets was never so small. This combination has resulted in the season ticket "famine."

"We want to be fair and square with the patrons of the chautauqua," said J. H. Scholl, secretary of the board, after the directors' meeting this morning, "and we approved of this plan as the best way out of the difficulty. The directors are not in reality in error because the same conditions surround the purchase of season tickets as have existed before. The fact that the demand was greater and they were all sold out before August 1 this year has caused the present misunderstanding."

"We are glad in one sense that this question has developed because we can settle it for the future. Hereafter the ruling will be strictly adhered to. Only guarantors' tickets may be purchased for a dollar and a half hereafter. All other season tickets will be sold for two dollars."

The argument was presented by people who failed to buy a guarantors' ticket that the conditions were not sufficiently understood. They said the programs, in which the conditions were stated, had not been generally distributed and that the advertisements in the newspapers did not reach all of the people. Because of this argument, although the rule has always been in effect but never applied because there was no need for it, the board decided to sell out the rest of the tickets at the guarantors' price.

Prospects for the success of the chautauqua were never brighter. The rush for season tickets indicates how the program this year has attracted the attention of many people who were not season ticket buyers up to this time.

Two hundred dollars' worth of improvements have been made at the chautauqua grounds and in the coliseum. Arrangements were made to seat many more people. The last ten rows of seats clear around the coliseum were raised so that a good view of the stage may be had from any section of the building. Extensions were built on the raised seats and they were made more stable.

William Maurice, weighing eight and three-quarters pound, was born to the wife of Jesse Trobaugh at their home in West Ninth street this morning.

Amusements

The Princess offers a Pathe drama, "The Price of Silence" for the first picture tonight. The other is a Biograph comedy entitled "Cinderella and the Boob." Both are said to be fine pictures.

"Indian Summer" is the title of a Selig drama at the Portola tonight. The second picture is "Pathe Weekly, No. 20." The last picture is a Lubin drama "Brightened Sunset."

The festival concerts to be given here by the Innes orchestra band on Wednesday, of the chautauqua will introduce as the vocal feature Beatrice Van Loon, the well-known young Holland-Dutch soprano. She has chosen the "Spring Song" from Herbert's Opera Natoma, and a group of French, English and German songs for her appearance here.

Mr. Innes' selections are the famous Intermezzo from Wolfe-Ferrari's "Jewels of the Madonna," List's Second Rhapsody, the Mignott and Tannhauser overtures and a new spectacular Fantasy by Innes himself, which is called "Anglo-Americana."

Rules of the Contest

Any boy or girl not over 16 years of age may become a contestant.

Contestants may enter by enrolling their names with ALL the merchants conducting the contest, at their place of business—each contestant enrolling will receive 500 VOTES FREE from each of the eleven merchants, when they enroll.

Each merchant during the progress of this contest shall give to customers, who may desire same, 1 vote with every 1 cent paid by said customer, either on old accounts or on cash business, (Except The Daily Republican, who will give 5 votes for each 1 cent paid on old or new subscriptions—no votes given for less than a fifty cent subscription) and said votes may be cast by said customer or by any one else for any contestant at any of the ballot boxes at the eleven different merchants' places of business.

The votes will not be counted until the last day of the contest (Wednesday, November 5, 1913) so that holding back votes for the final day will be of no advantage to any contestant. The votes will be counted after six o'clock in the evening of the closing day by a committee of three reputable citizens to be chosen later.

In case two or more contestants tie and the Pony Outfit can not be satisfactorily divided among them, the merchants conducting this contest will equally divide among said contestants Three Hundred Dollars in gold in lieu of the Pony Outfit.

Any person remitting by mail to any merchant should say who their votes shall be cast for, or if they desire the votes be mailed to themselves or to any contestant, a two cent stamp should accompany the remittance.

Information

All the merchants in this contest have post cards for the use of the contestants in soliciting aid from their friends—make a list of your friends that you care to mail a card to and get them when you enroll.

CHAPTER IV.

Dunham listened as long as his ear could catch the sound, then a strange desolation settled down upon him.

The little station behind him was closed, though a light over the desk shone brightly through its front window and the telegraph sounder was clicking busily.

Turning impatiently from the darkness, Dunham sought the bright window, in front of which lay a newspaper. He could read the large headlines of a column—no more, for the paper was upside down, and a bunch of bill-heads lay partly across it. It read: MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE OF YOUNG AND PRETTY WOMAN

His heart stood still, and then went thudding on in dull, horrid blows. Vainly he tried to read further. He followed every visible word of that paper to discover its date and origin, but those miserable bill-heads frustrated his effort. He felt like dashing his hand through the glass, but reflected that the act might result in his being locked up in some miserable country jail. He tried the window and gave the door another vicious shake, but all to no purpose. Finally he turned on his heel and walked up and down for an hour, tramping the length of the shaky platform, back and forth, till the train rumbled up.

At the first stop a man in front got out, leaving a newspaper in the seat. With eager hands, Dunham leaned forward and grasped it, searching its columns in vain for the tantalizing headlines. But there were others equally arresting. This paper announced the mysterious disappearance of a young actress who was suspected of poisoning her husband. When seen last, she was boarding a train en route to Washington. She had not arrived there, however, so far as could be discovered. It was supposed that she was lingering in the vicinity of Philadelphia or Baltimore. There were added a few incriminating details concerning her relationship with her dead husband, and a brief sketch of her sensational life. The paragraph closed with the statement that she was an accomplished musician.

The young man frowned and, opening his window, flung the scandalous sheet to the breeze. He determined to forget what he had read, yet the lines kept coming before his eyes.

When he reached the city he went to the news stand in the station, where was an agent who knew him, and procured a copy of every paper on sale. Then, instead of hurrying home, he found a seat in a secluded corner and proceeded to examine his purchases.

In large letters on the front page of a New York paper blazed:

HOUSE ROBBED OF JEWELS
WORTH TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS BY BEAUTIFUL YOUNG ADVENTRESS MASQUERADING AS A PARLOR MAID.

He ran his eyes down the column and gathered that she was still at large, though the entire police force of New York was on her track.

He turned to another paper, only to be met by the words:

ESCAPE OF FAIR LUNATIC and underneath:

Prison walls could not confine Miss Nancy Lee, who last week threw a lighted lamp at her mother, setting fire to the house, and then attempted suicide. The young woman seems to have recovered her senses, and professes to know nothing of what happened, but the physicians say she is liable to another attack of insanity, and deem it safe to keep her confined. She escaped during the night, leaving no clew to her whereabouts. How she managed to get open the window through which she left the asylum is still a mystery.

In disgust he flung the paper from him and took up another.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED! BEAUTIFUL YOUNG HEIRESS MISSING.

His soul turned sick within him. He looked up and saw a little procession of late revelers rushing out to the last suburban train, the girls leaving a trail of orris perfume and a vision of dainty opera cloaks. One of the men was a city friend of his. Dunham half envied him his unperturbed mind. To be sure, he would not get back to the city till three in the morning, but he would have no visions of robberies and fair lunatics and hard pressed maidens unjustly pursued, to mar his rest.

Dunham buttoned his coat and turned up his collar as he started out into the street, for the night had turned cold, and his nerves made him chilly. As he walked, the blood began to race more healthily in his veins, and the horrors of the evening papers were dispelled. In their place came pleasant memories of the evening at Mrs. Bowman's, of the music, and of their ride and talk together. In his heart a hope began to rise that her dark days would pass, and that he might find her again and know her better.

His brief night's sleep was cut short by a sharp knock at his door the next morning. He awoke with a confused idea of being on a sleeping car, and wondered if he had plenty of time to dress, but his sister's voice quickly dispelled the illusion.

"Tryon, aren't you almost ready to come down to breakfast? Do hurry, please. I've something awfully important to consult you about."

COPYRIGHT 1912, BY J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY

THIS sister's tone told him there was need for haste if he would keep in her good graces, so he made a hurried toilet and went down, to find his household in a state of subdued excitement.

"I'm just as worried as I can be," declared his mother. "I want to consult you, Tryon. I have put such implicit confidence in Norah, and I cannot bear to accuse her unjustly, but I have missed a number of little things lately."

"What the matter, mother? Norah been appropriating property not her own?"

"I'm very much afraid she has, Tryon. What would you do about it? It is so unpleasant to charge a person with stealing. It is such a vulgar thing to steal. Somehow I thought Nora was more refined."

"Why, I suppose there's nothing to do but just charge her with it, is there? Are you quite sure it is gone? What is it, any way? A ring, did you say?"

"No, it's a hat," said Cornelia shortly. "A sixty-dollar hat. I wish I'd kept it now, and then she wouldn't have dared. It had two beautiful willow ostrich plumes on it, but mother didn't think it was becoming. She wanted some color about it instead of all black. I left it in my room, and charged Norah to see that the man got it when he called, and now the man comes and says he wants the hat, and it is gone! Norah insists that when she last saw it, it was in my room. But of course that's absurd, for there was nobody else to take it but Thompson, and he's been in the family for so long."

"Cornelia," interrupted Tryon, quite beside himself, "don't think of such a thing as speaking to that poor girl about that hat. I know she hasn't stolen it. The hat will probably be found, and then how will you feel?"

"But I tell you the hat cannot be found!" said the exasperated sister. "And I shall just have to pay for a hat that I can never wear."

"Mother, I appeal to you," said the son earnestly. "Don't allow Cornelia to speak of the hat to the girl. I wouldn't have such an injustice done in our house. The hat will turn up soon if you just go about the matter calmly. You'll find it quite naturally and unexpectedly, perhaps. Any way, if you don't, I'll pay for the hat, rather than have the girl suspected."

The mother rose reluctantly. "Well, we might let it go another day," she consented. Then, looking up at the sky, she added: "I wonder if it is going to rain. I have a reciprocity meeting on for today, and I'm a delegate to some little unheard-of place. It usually does rain when one goes into the country, I've noticed."

She went into the hall, and presently returned with a distressed look upon her face.

"Tryon, I'm afraid you're wrong," she said. "Now my raincoat is missing. My new raincoat! I hung it up in the hall closet with my own hands, after it came from the store. I really think something ought to be done!"

"There! I hope you see!" said Cornelia severely. "I think it's high time something was done. I shall phone for a detective at once!"

"Cornelia, you'll do nothing of the kind," her brother protested, now thoroughly aroused. "I'll agree to pay for the hat and the raincoat if they are not forthcoming before a fortnight passes, but you simply shall not ruin that poor girl's reputation. I insist, mother, that you put a stop to such rash proceedings. I'll make myself personally responsible for that girl's honesty."

"Well, of course, Tryon, if you wish it—" said his mother, with anxious hesitation.

"I certainly do wish it, mother. I shall take it as personal if anything is done in this matter without consulting me. Remember, Cornelia, I will not have any trifling. A girl's reputation is certainly worth more than several hats and raincoats, and I know she has not taken them."

He walked from the dining room and from the house in angry dignity, to the astonishment of his mother and sister, to whom he was usually courteous itself.

Tryon Dunham took his way to his office much perturbed in mind. Perplexities seemed to be thickening about him. With the dawn of the morning had come that sterner common-sense which told him he was a fool for having taken up with a strange young woman on the street, who was so evidently flying from justice.

Ah, the ring! A sudden warm thrill shot through him, and his hand searched his vest pocket, where he had hastily put the jewel before leaving his room. That was something tangible. He could at least know what it was worth, and so make sure once for all whether he had been deceived. The stone seemed to be of unusual beauty and purity, but he would step into the diamond shop as he passed and make sure. He had a friend there who could tell him all about it.

After the morning greeting, he handed over his ring.

"This belongs to a friend of mine," he said, trying to look unconcerned. "I should like to know if the stone is genuine, and about what it is worth."

His friend took the ring and retired behind a curious little instrument for the eye, presently emerging with a respectful look upon his face.

"Your friend is fortunate to have such a beautiful stone. It is unusually clear and white, and exquisitely cut. I should say it was worth at least"—he paused and then named a sum which startled Dunham, even accustomed as he was to counting values in high figures. He took the jewel back with a kind of awe. Where had his mysterious lady acquired this wondrous bauble which she had tossed to him for a trifle? In a tumult of feeling, he went on to his office more perplexed than ever.

Meantime, the girl who was speeding along toward Chicago had not forgotten him. She could not if she would, for all about her were reminders of him. The conductor took charge of her ticket, telling her in his gruff, kind way what time they would arrive in the city. The porter was solicitous about her comfort, the news-boy brought the latest magazines and a box of chocolates and laid them at her shrine with a smile of admiration and the words, "Th' g'n'l'm'n sent 'em!"

By and by, she opened the suitcase, half doubtfully, feeling that she was almost intruding upon another's possessions.

There were a dress suit and a change of fine linen, handkerchiefs, neckties, a pair of gloves, a soft, black felt negligee hat folded, a large black silk muffler, a bathrobe, and the usual silver-mounted brushes, combs and other toilet articles. She looked them over in a business-like way, trying to see how she could make use of them. Removing her hat, she covered it with the silk muffler, to protect it from dust. Then she took off her dress and wrapped herself in the soft bathrobe, wondering as she did so at her willingness to put on a stranger's garments. Somehow, in her brief acquaintance with this man, he had impressed her with his own pleasant fastidiousness, so that there was a kind of pleasure in using his things, as if they had been those of a valued friend.

She touched the electric button that controlled the lights in the little apartment, and lay down in the darkness to think out her problem of the new life that lay before her.

WAS NOT EXPECTED TO SUGGEST POLICY

Ambassador Wilson Simply a Bearer of News.

Washington, July 29.—At the White House yesterday afternoon the much discussed conference between Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico, and President Wilson took place, and at its conclusion it was apparent that so far as the administration's attitude toward Mexico is concerned, things are exactly as they were last week. The president is still without a policy in the Mexican situation, and the question now seems to be: "How long before he will be without an ambassador to Mexico?"

Ambassador Wilson was with the president and secretary of state but an hour, and the understanding is that the interview was anything but satisfactory to the envoy. It was explicitly said by Mr. Bryan, after the conference, that only facts were discussed and that the ambassador was neither requested nor permitted to make suggestions as to policy. Ambassador Wilson has no assurance that he will see the president again, and from the announcement of Secretary Bryan that the conferences with Mr. Wilson are concluded for the present, it is inferred that the ambassador will not appear at the White House in an advisory capacity.

Mr. Wilson does not even know yet whether he is to return to Mexico as ambassador from the United States. It is the general prediction in Washington that Ambassador Wilson will not return, except as he may wish to go there personally.

While the president has no expressed plan or policy toward Mexico, it is definitely known that he still inclines toward the suggestion of mediation.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

A receiver has been appointed in bankruptcy for Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Fair shows.

John O'Callaghan, secretary of the United Irish League of America since its founding in 1901, is dead at Boston.

The labor dispute in South Africa has assumed a most threatening aspect, and dispatches from Johannesburg say the tension there is very great.

Thirty-nine men were indicted on charges of participating in the shooting up of the Cabin Creek Consolidation Coal company's plant at Ohley, W. Va.

Joseph Fish, one of the biggest and wealthiest public fire insurance adjusters in Chicago, has been indicted on twelve counts by the grand jury which has been investigating the so-called "arson trust."

The nomination of Adam E. Patterson, a negro, of Muskogee, Okla., to be registrar of the treasury, which President Wilson sent to the senate last week, has aroused a storm of opposition among southerners.

Representative Davis of Clarksburg, W. Va., who has been nominated by President Wilson as solicitor general, will be the principal assistant to Attorney General McReynolds. The position pays $10,000 a year.

European gossip has it that the announcement will be made shortly of the engagement of Crown Prince Charles, the eldest son of King Charles of Roumania, and the Grandduchess Olga, the eldest daughter of the czar of Russia.

TRYING TO MAKE PROPER AMENDS

Mexican Authorities Concerned Over Juarez Incident.

SITUATION DECLARED SERIOUS

Well Informed Americans Recently Returned From Mexican Capital Declare Financial and Economic Conditions There Are Such That the Utter Collapse of the Huerta Regime Cannot Long Be Delayed.

Washington, July 29.—Officials of the state department express themselves pleased with the results obtained in the case of Thomas Dixon, United States immigration inspector, who was shot by federals at Juarez on Saturday. The department is informed that its every demand has been acceded to. Dixon has been brought to an El Paso hospital, where it is said his chances of recovery are good. Likewise it is understood that the men concerned in the shooting have been put in confinement.

Some anxiety is still felt about the cases of Charles Bissell and an Englishman named MacDonald, who are reported in the hands of federals near Chihuahua and under sentence of execution. Urgent demand has been made by representatives of the United States at Chihuahua for the immediate release of both Bissell and MacDonald. General Pascual Orozco is in command of the federals in the vicinity of Chihuahua, and it is believed he will accede to the demands of the United States.

Reports to the state department indicate that the federals are gaining somewhat in certain parts of Mexico. Carranzista officers at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz have applied for permission to come into the Texas city of Eagle Pass, just across the border. They purpose to leave their wounded behind them. The situation in Chihuahua has been relieved somewhat by the re-establishment of railway service.

The Mexican embassy has given out a statement regarding the progress being made by the Huerta government toward pacifying the country. This statement tells of rebel forces fleeing before the federals and the progress being made. It also tells of an increase in the Mexican federal forces in the past five months from 27,000 to 85,000 men.

Advices to the state department from Mexico also were somewhat reassuring. The embassy reported that the Huerta government is making every effort to stop the anti-American expressions of the press. The government, it is said, is making public such information as is calculated to allay the resentment against the United States and put a stop to anti-American demonstrations.

From other sources, however, it is learned that a critical situation exists in Mexico City, and that unless something is done soon to rescue the Huerta government there will be a tremendous explosion in the Mexican capital. The causes of this impending crisis, according to well informed Americans recently returned from Mexico City, are economic and financial. Should the present conditions continue much longer, it is said by these Americans, the Huerta government utterly will collapse and chaos beyond anything hitherto imaginable will result.

PROTEST THEIR LOYALTY

Chinese Provinces Reported in Rebellion Deny It.

London, July 29.—Dispatches from Peking indicate that the official opinion there in regard to the southern uprising is now definitely optimistic and the early and final defeat of the rebels is expected. Provinces which were supposed to have joined the southern movement are now protesting their loyalty to President Yuan Shih Kai. There has been a small uprising along the Hau river in Hupeh, but the important Wuchang force is still loyal to the government.

Senate Confirms Nominations.

Washington, July 29.—The senate has confirmed the following diplomatic nominations: James W. Gerard of New York, to be ambassador to Germany; Frederick C. Penfield of Pennsylvania, to be ambassador to Austria-Hungary; Joseph E. Willard of Virginia, to be minister to Spain, and Charles S. Hartman of Montana, to be minister to Ecuador.

Accused of Robbing Corpse.

Washington, July 29.—The war department is awaiting with interest the result of the proceedings against Kruger Kaprielin, an officer of the medical reserve corps of the army, arrested at Mt. Vernon on the charge of robbing a body on a train. If the charges are proved Dr. Kaprielin will be promptly discharged from the service.

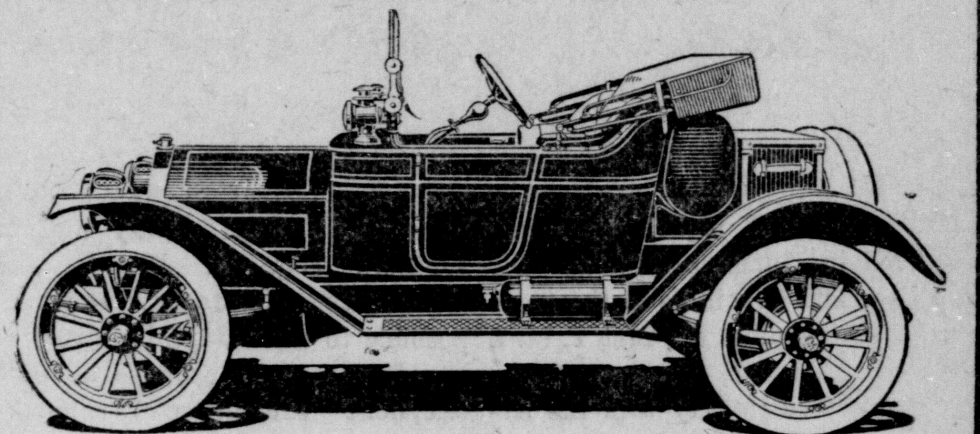

After a long absence the Davis International Challenge cup of lawn tennis and emblematic of the world's championship, comes back home, having been retaken at Wimbledon, England, by Maurice E. # MURRAY SIGNED FOR THIRD BASE

Cambridge City Team Blows up and Arcadians Succeeded in Landing Heavy Hitter.

WILL BE IN GAME SUNDAY

Nick Tompkins, Local Boy, Will Play Left Field Against Fast Y. M. I. Team.

It was welcome news that Eddie Cook handed the management of the baseball team last night. Cook has succeeded in landing Murray for third base and he will be in the game here Sunday against the fast Y. M. I. team of Cincinnati. George Orme, who was signed to play with the Arcadians last week will not report. Orme may be a good third baseman but Murray is better and is no experiment.

The Cambridge City team disbanded after last Sunday's game and the Arcadians grabbed on to Murray. Murray needs no introduction to local fans as his work is well known and he is conceded to be the best third baseman in semi-pro ball in Indiana. His hitting should help the Arcadians. Murray had a chance to go to Kokomo and the Indianapolis Reserves and the Arcadians were lucky in getting him. The third base position has been causing trouble all season and with the signing of Murray the trouble is all over as he will hold it down.

One other new man will be in the line up Sunday. That is Nick Tompkins. Tompkins will play left field and should prove a valuable addition to the team. It has been several years since local fans have seen Nick in action and he will receive a welcome Sunday.

The Y. M. I. team is coming to get revenge for the defeat handed them by the Arcadians in the first game between the two teams. The game Sunday will no doubt attract a large crowd. The Y. M. I. team by their performance a week ago showed that they have a team and Sunday they defeated the Elwood team by a 5 to 1 score. Conway their crack pitcher did not work in the game against Elwood but will pitch here Sunday. The first meeting of the two teams was a battle between Conway and Avery with "Chick" having a shade the best of the argument.

A week from Sunday the team will play its second game of the season away from home. The team will go to Newcastle meeting the fast team of that city. A special train will be run to Newcastle and from all indications a large number of fans will make the trip. Last year Newcastle won two out of three games from Rushville and the team this year is confident that Newcastle cannot repeat. On August 24 Newcastle will come here for a return game.

CHURCH AND BARN BURNED

Spontaneous Combustion Causes Fire Near Lewisville.

Spontaneous combustion in new hay resulted in a fire Saturday which burned to the ground the barn in which the hay was lately stored, and the old Ebenezer church adjoining the barn. All the live stock was safely removed from the burning barn and most of the farm implements. The fire occurred on the farm of John D. Maple near Lewisville was almost a dead loss as Mr. Maple carried very little insurance. Wilbur May, who is tending the farm, reports a complete loss on the crop and some few implements as he carried no insurance whatever.

BOLT PLAYS A QUEER PRANK

Strikes Mac Bogue's Barn Within Six Inches of Place Hit by Lightning Last Spring.

HORSE IS KILLED INSTANTLY

Other Belated News of the Storm Sunday Afternoon When Two Barns Were Burned to Ground.

Belated news of the wind and thunder storm of Sunday afternoon in northern Rush county and the southern edge of Henry county reached this city today. It was impossible to learn anything definite of the damage done because all of the telephone exchanges in northern Rush county were out of commission yesterday and no one could be reached by telephone.

The lightning played a peculiar freak at the home of Mac Bogue six miles northwest of here. It struck the front end of the barn on his place within six inches of the spot where it hit last spring. In each case the front end of the barn was torn out. Very little damage was done to the barn either time, but Sunday a horse belonging to Mr. Bogue was killed instantly.

The heaviest loser was Fred L. Hudelson, living about a quarter of a mile east of Dunreith, whose big barn, measuring 40 by 50 feet, was struck by lightning about 4 o'clock and was totally destroyed, along with its contents, including two horses, one of them a valuable stallion, a large quantity of hay and grain and farming implements. The loss will reach $2,000 and it is only partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Hudelson states that the bolt of lightning came practically from a clear sky. A storm seemed to be hovering in the west, but at the time it looked miles away. The blaze spread over the entire structure in a few minutes and made it almost impossible to get anything out. Many were attracted by the blaze and smoke and although there was a large crowd on hand in a short time the people were powerless to do anything.

Another barn was destroyed at the home of Eli Newby in Spiceland about 1:30 o'clock. Several tons of new hay and some grain were destroyed in the fire. Three horses in the building at the time were taken out. The blaze quickly spread and those who gathered to fight the fire could do little but try to save the surrounding buildings. The loss will reach $400 and the insurance amounts to $100.

Many trees were blown down, buildings unroofed and other smaller damages done all through the southern part of Henry county.

to go on the chautauqua platform to any advantage because I would no sooner than get started until I should be compelled to return to Washington and thus upset my entire program.

"The Chautauqua Association, under whose auspices I lecture, is very much put out over my delay. Please think it over and deal with me as you would want me to deal with you under like circumstances."

The extracts from The Star and all the letters that have passed between Watson and the committee were read in order that they may be printed in the record.

NEXT S.S. LEAGUE GAME SATURDAY

Flatrook Will be Here Then For Game With Presbyterian Team—is Postponed Contest

CAN'T GET HERE WEDNESDAY

The Flatrook team will be unable to play the Methodists tomorrow afternoon. The Flatrook boys are still tied up with farm work and are unable to put a team in the field. The Flatrook team however will be able to play Saturday and will be matched against the the Presbyterian team. The game Saturday is a postponed contest from July 9. This will be the first meeting between the Presbyterian and the Flatrook team. The Flatrook team has played both the Methodists and the Christians and have won from both teams. After this week it is thought that the Flatrook team can play all the scheduled games and the postponed games will be played as rapidly as possible. The schedule runs late into September and it will be easy to finish the season.
